The Nick Wall Horror. Passengers who arrived at Memphis last night from below, among whom is one of the passengers of the Nick Wall, give the following details of the accident to that boat on Sunday night, which resulted in the death of over one hundred passengers. The Wall struck the snag at half-past ten, on the night named and sunk in less than ten. minutes in forty, feet of water. Her hurricane roof falling in from the immense weight thereon made prisoners of the cabin passengers, thereby preventing their escape, Mr. Monteof over one hundred passengers, The Wall made prisoners of the cabin passengers, thereby preventing their escape, Mr. Montehutcher, the passenger mentioned, states that at the fime named eight or ten passengers chase money cash, and the residue in two equal were sitting about the stove when they felt the instalments at six and twelve months, respectshock. He then ran out of the door of the lively, from the day of sale, with interest; the cabin, and was about to return when the cabin root caved in, dashing barrels, wagons, ploughs and other articles into the cabin, where everybody had rushed who could get out of their state-rooms. Mr. Montehutcher's further of trust Deeds and stamps at the cost of the statement is as follows: - I was thrown against purchaser. WESTEL WILLOUGHBY, statement is as follows :- I was thrown against the smokestack on starboard side; I was twice pulled back by the hair, and, in the third attempt made, some one caught me by the feet, in the struggle to save himself, and pulled my shoes off, I finally managed to gain the hurri cape deck, and then saw no earthly chance for escape, as the roof was by this time crowded, and every one was seeking for something on wreck was still floating down the river, and we did not know what moment she would sink .-Women were screaming for husbands and children, and children for parents. Just as we thought all hopes were gone we saw the lights of a boat coming up the river, and every one business. that could shouted for assistance. James Vendervorst, assistant pilot, lighted a piece of paper in the pilot house, showing it as a signal of distness. In about fifteen minutes the friendly boat floated alongside and made and found Mrs. Roc, the captain's wife, wedged in among a lot of barrels, boxes, &c. She the undersigned, commissioner appointed by was brought into the cabin of the Seminole, and after great exertions showed signs of life and is now doing well. The dead were then brought in. The scene beggars description. There were about twenty five killed, but I cannot tell how many were wounded. Mr. Taylor, from some part of Missouri, who was rooming with me, is among the dead. Ite had retired about five minutes before the accident fast to the wreck, when a staging was thrown happened. A gentleman, with his daughter and son-in-law, the last two just married, are among the dead. They intended to get off about one mile below the wreck. The Nick Wall lies aground about four miles below Worthon Point, where she struck. The num ber of lives lost by the accident cannot be ascertained. Sixty or make deak passengers went on board at this place. Several of these, in the midst of the terror of the scene, leaped overboard and were drowned Many were taken from the water by life boats. The Seminole passengers say that Captain Montgomery came up to the wreck and touched it so lightly and gently that there was not the slightest per ceptible shock. The lifeboats almost immediately surrounded the Nick Wall. The steamer Paragon passed the wreck of Nick Wall about two hours after the accident occurred, and the captain, officers and crew tendered the unfortunate people taken from the wreck every pos sible kindness. Those going down the river were taken by the Paragon to their destination.

In extricating Mrs. Roe an axe had to be used to cut through the hurricane roof. She was struck with the axe, but not seriously wounded. Seventy emigrants and twenty cabin passengers boarded the Nick Wall here. She had on board 150 souls. The disaster is the most appalling one that has occurred since the explosion of the Sultana in 1865. Among retention of the title to the property sold until the lost was a bridal party that got on here. Crrrespondent Boston Times.

WITHE COMANCHES."

The publishers will shortly issue the history of the 35th Batalion Virginia Cavalry, C. S. A., amiliarly known as "White's" Batalion, from ts commander, Col. Elijah V. White. It is a work of over 200 pages, and contain the history of this famous command during all the period of its existence, from the formation of its first company in 1861, to the surrender of Gen. Lee's army. It shows the operations of the "Ashby Brigade" during the two years that the 35th Va. Cav. formed a portion of that gallant command, giving the only published account of the great expedition of Gen. W. E. Jones through West, Vn., when the Kanawha river was set on fire, and also the connection of the cavalry with the campaigns of the A. N. V.

The history of the batalion as partizan rangers on the Potomac border, and along the army lines of Banks, Pope, McClellan and other Federal commanders, together with the experience of its men as scouts, guides and couriers for Generals Jackson and Ewell is given, and the MS. is highly endorsed by the officers of the Battalion who have examined it. ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life mizerable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are to apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadmit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost somer by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened.—Loss of Procreative Power Nervous Irritability Dyspensia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion.
